*Please see the qualification regulations section in Info for eligible sport classes in detail.

Track events

In track events there will be a maximum of three rounds (first round, semifinals and final), based on the number of competitors.

Field events

In horizontal jumps and ambulatory throws, where there are more than eight athletes, each athlete will be allowed three trials and the eight athletes with the best valid performances shall be allowed three additional trials.

In seated throwing events, six consecutive trials shall be staged for each athlete, unless it is decided to hold the first three rounds in two or more pools.

Marathon

The marathon events will be held on the streets of Tokyo with the start and finish at the Olympic Stadium.

Competition rules

The para athletics competition will be held in accordance with the editions of the following documents that are in force at the time of the Games:

- The World Para Athletics Rules and Regulations 2020-2021 (www.paralympic.org/athletics/events/rules-and-regulations)
- The IPC Handbook (www.paralympic.org/the-ipc/handbook)

World Para Athletics, working with the Tokyo 2020 competition management, will be responsible for the technical control and direction of the athletics competition at the Tokyo 2020 Paralympic Games.

CHANGES SINCE THE RIO 2016 PARALYMPIC GAMES

The following changes have been made since the Rio 2016 Paralympic Games:

- At Rio 2016 there were 11 days of competition and 177 medal events. Tokyo 2020 has 10 days of competition and 167 medal events.
- For Tokyo 2020 a new mixed gender and mixed class 4x100m universal relay has been introduced. The race involves teams of two male and two female athletes, each from a different class. Each team has a

- visually impaired athlete (T11-13), an athlete from the T42-47 or T61-64 limb impairment classes, an athlete from the T35-38 co-ordination impairment classes, and a wheelchair racer (T33-34 or T51-54).
- Athletes with visual impairment who compete with guide runners are guided by using a tether, a hand strap tied between athletes and guide runners. In 2018, the specifications of the tether were standardised helping to ensure increased fairness and safety on the field of play.

DIFFERENCES FROM THE OLYMPIC GAMES

- Visually impaired athletes at the Paralympic Games may compete with a guide runner, and therefore races in lanes at track events will have a limited number of finalists (four athletes).
- The number of rounds is generally less at the Paralympic Games.
- There are many more events at the Paralympic Games due to the number of competing sports classes.
- Para athletics have the club throw, which is not featured on the Olympic Games programme.
- Not all sport classes use starting blocks in the 100m-400m events due to different types of impairment.
- Visually impaired athletes in the long jump and throwing events will use an assistant on the field of play for orientation.
- In the marathon, visually impaired athletes may compete with two guide runners who interchange at either the 10km, 21.1km or 30km mark.
- In the universal relay, no baton is used, and two lanes are allocated to each team.
- Athletes in the T53 and T54 classes may compete over multiple distances (from 100m to the marathon), whereas during the Olympic Games, athletes tend to specialise in just one or two events.
